

PREHOSPITAL EMERGENCY COMMUNICATION GUIDE

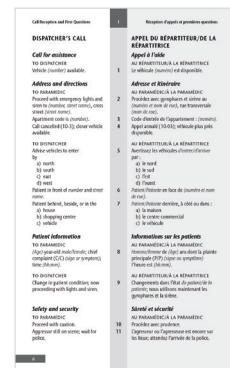

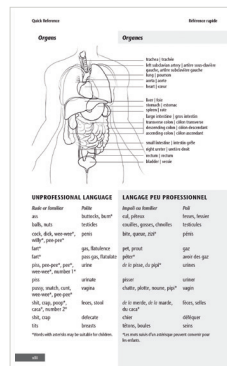

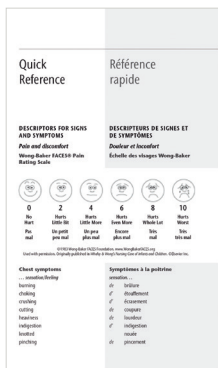

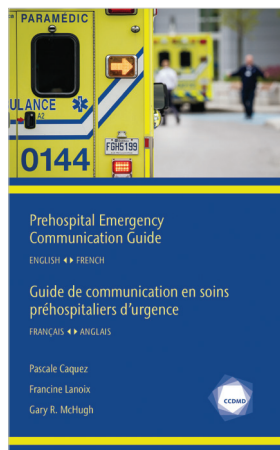

ENGLISH-FRENCH

Authors

Pascale Caquez
Francine Lanoix
Gary R. McHugh

Institution

John Abbott College

Textbook | Software | Website | PDF | Album | Other

Description

This phrasebook is a useful tool for students studying prehospital emergency care, but also for working paramedics and other health care personnel. It aims to help them in their exchanges with patients, and those who are close to them, in both English and French. It is divided into two main sections: a phrasebook and a lexicon.

The terms in this book are used in the medical field in both prehospital and hospital care, and were selected as a result of the stated need to improve the communication skills of emergency response personnel working in their second language.

The authors hope that this phrasebook will be useful to all Francophones and Anglophones who are required to speak a second language while practicing their profession.

French (Second Language) 602 | Pre-Hospital Emergency Care 181.AO
ISBN Print Edition: 978-2-89470-387-8 / ISBN Electronic Edition: 978-2-89470-388-5
236 pages | CCDMD 2018

